

Dear all,

After receiving Mrs. Ziane's email yesterday letting us all know that the Naughty Elf was back out playing horrible pranks on us, I just knew it was bound to be class 4C's turn at some point!!

To my horror, the Elf set a trap of sharp pins in the door way of my classroom in hope that I would not see them and be in a lot of pain on this lovely Friday morning. Luckily, I was not half asleep and noticed them 😊 I quickly took some pictures as evidence to prove to you all that he is up to his tricks AGAIN and I noticed a red figure in the background trying to escape out of the classroom window. I tried my hardest to catch him but he was just way too quick for me!

He even had the cheek to take a selfie on the computer's webcam as a little present too 😞

PLEASE keep a look out Becontree, he NEEDS to be caught!!

Be safe,

Mr. Crowther
