

Dear Children,

Imagine my surprise when I walked in this morning and found a trail of popcorn on my floor.

I followed this and saw more scattered across my desk...

When I spied someone warm and cosy snoozing in my tissue box. I peered closer and to my shock....the naught elf was sleeping...

Quick as a flash, I reached into my bag to grab my phone to take some pictures and as I snapped away, I must have made so much noise and the elf jumped up and dashed for the window. All that I managed to get was a snap of their feet as they made their exit!

Keep a look out children. The naughty elf is certainly about and causing lots of mischief in the school!!!!
