Cautiously, Leon took a careful step into the unknown, anxiety building up inside him. Taking a long, deep breath, he took another step and gasped as he unexpectedly fell with a loud-THUD!. He groaned hard, rock as he stood up from the rock hard floor, recovering from his sudden fall. Leon slowly looked up and his eyes widened in amazement.

further into the Place Between. He was so lost in his thoughts that he almost tripped over a cardboard box which was running around aimlessly.

It ~~knocked~~ against his ~~carne~~ and stopped ~~moving~~. Leon chased after it and once it was captured, confident posture.

"Thank goodness that's off of me", muttered the rabbit

"Oh! Hello there and welcome to the Place Between!" ^{It} ~~The rabbit~~ exclaimed enthusiastically.

"Oh hi, ^{and}
"Who are you? Why are you here?" asked Leon questionably.

"I'm Oliver, and I have been stuck here for as long as I can remember. I'm trying my best to escape but I've failed every single time! It's absolutely absurd. Will you please help me, please?"

"But I don't even know you, or anything about this place!"
answered Leon, feeling ~~lost~~ puzzled

"Ah" sighed Oliver. "Don't worry about that! I know this place. everything about this place from bottom to top! You'll just be my supporting companion on my journey."

Leon thought for a moment, staring skeptically at Oliver. He really needed to return to the real world ^{too} ~~anyway~~ get out of here as well.

~~go~~

"Hm, fine. But only because I need to return home too."

// Q The rabbit and Leon walked towards a hidden door that Oliver ~~had~~ found. Leon opened the door and stepped leading to ~~some~~ somewhere.

"Just follow ~~me~~ ^{my lead and you'll be safe.} ~~reassured~~ Leon Oliver said reassuringly to Leon as he hopped through the hallway.

Leon ran after him, feeling a surge of panic as Oliver left him behind, trusting Oliver to know what he's doing. As they left the ~~hallway~~ ^{tunnel, room}, they found themselves in ~~in~~ a room with multiple passageways ~~and~~ with stone-grey walls ~~and~~ and the ground beneath them was and grassy floors.

"Come on, let's ~~a~~ get going! We don't want to ~~walk~~ ^{stand} around." Oliver ~~said~~ bellowed. ~~as he~~

Leon sighed and began the ~~way~~ ^{maze} with the rabbit,

~~the~~ trying to find the exit so they can leave trying to find the exit with every eager attempt. Sadly, they ~~only found dead ends after dead ends~~. They tried and tried and tried and tried, but all they found were dead ends. Leon grew frustrated and ~~wanted to give up~~ ^{started feeling hopeless.}

The rabbit sighed and softly gazed at Leon.

"Look, I know you're tired but - [!] ~~we~~ cannot afford to give up. So please, shall we try one last time?"

Leon glanced at the rabbit ~~to~~ before carefully getting up.

"Okay," he said determinedly. "I'll do it."

The rabbit smiled and ~~he~~ hopped off along with Leon, both resilient to find their way out.

After ~~sew~~ several ~~other~~ dead ends, they managed to find the dilapidated, immense door which opened - allowing them to return to reality through a hypnotising portal. Leon and Oliver jumped in and disappeared from Sight.

Leon's eyes fluttered open and he found himself on stage, ~~the~~. The familiar faces of his flabbergasted siblings shot him to reality. He was back home! He escaped!

The ~~noise~~ ^{cheers} of the ear-piercing ~~noise~~ and applause of the crowd made him feel dizzy as he stood beside the rabbit in pride.
