

This morning, Mrs Imrie and I went into the hall to make sure all of our props for the EYFS nativity were ready to go. As we opened the hall door, we found some small snowy footprints leading up to the benches and on to the stage...

They led us up to the crib where our Baby Jesus should have been asleep. We were horrified to find that they had taped up the baby's mouth and one elf was sleeping there instead!

As we grabbed the baby from the chair, they both ran as fast as they could off of the stage and ran underneath. We tried our hardest to catch them but they were just too fast!

We must catch this mischievous pair soon!!
