

Who am I?

I am always above you,
Searching for a friend.

I wait silently while I spin around the sun
But the wait never ends

I'm covered in a beautiful baby blue coat
With faint rings all around me
You could study my brothers and sisters

Or just stare at the big black sea

Not everything is good round here
The weather is really violent

But I can never get away
So I just sit there, silent

I am the eighth planet
Away from the sun
Is that why you don't visit me
Because you think I'm not fun?
