

Who am I?

I am a planet – in fact the king of planets

Noxious gasses not so fantastic

Fearsome temper-red spot raging

Lightning cracking breaking my methane.

Sooty, puffy clouds fall like rain

Clumping and forming together to make black graphite again and again.

Dropping further while losing height

I am the biggest planet.

Who am I?

By Jesse