To describe a setting

Wooch. The wind was blowing hard from side through the night to side. Water pipes started dripping. ^{silver} Street lamps started flickering and Varjak ^{nervously, started} ~~was~~ prowling among the shadows. He could feel the rain touching his ^{shiny} ~~shiny~~ smooth fur. The atmosphere was filthy and gloomy while the leaves scrambled in the air. He could smell the ^{black} trash bags from the ^{huge} big bins. Varjak was terrified but he kept on going. Then he came ^{full grown male} along five ginger cats. They ^{across} pinned him to the ground and one of them scratched him ^{and} on the cheek and left him a ^{purple} scar on his face.
