

The Mousehole Cat

Let me tell you about my terrible winter, but first let me tell you what usually happens. So usually, I cook something with fish in it eg moggie broth. In the evening a storm came and it was so dangerous that no one could go fishing for food! Or else...

I made the hard decision to go fishing but Mowzer couldn't stay home alone so I had to take her with me! So we sailed the seas, but Mowzer started humming so I had to block my ears but I had to keep sailing so I bore through it... but after a bit the storm calmed down!

"Mowzer!" Tom exclaimed "we did it!" exclaimed Tom again

"Yes we did! Tom" exclaimed Mowzer!

And that's the story!

//

3/04/2026 But there's a bit more...

After we went fishing we came back!

"There are lanterns probably to guide us back!" exclaimed Tom excitedly.

"Yes, probably" Mowzer meowed back.

"Your humming really calmed it down!"

said Tom "Well let's sail back!" commented Tom. And so they sailed back...

"Welcome back Tom!" cheered one of the citizens. They were back!

"Well done Tom and Mowzer!" exclaimed another citizen.

"Well lets make some food! We've-bee starving after all!" suggested a third citizen.

"Great idea" replied Tom.

And so they cooked A LOT of food (and mean A LOT)

"Wow! This is going to be great!" said Tom!

And thats really the story!

Writing a narrative from a character's perspective	Me
Beginning- character introduces story	✓
Middle- problem is explained, suspense created and character overcomes obstacle	✓
End- happy ending is stated	✓
Paragraphs for each new idea/scene change	✓
Described the setting (think about all senses)
Described the characters appearance, feelings and actions
Use first person	✓
Past tense	✓
Sounds like the voice of the character	✓
Writer's techniques like: adjectives, fronted adverbials, similes, alliterative paired verbs, onomatopoeia, personification, conjunctions, rhetorical questions
Use of speech follows the rules	✓

A good use of speech Jesse.