

WARNING!! RED ALERT!! The elves had gotten in the Zen Den 2!!!

When I came in this morning, I found one elf drawing portraits of the children on the screen, while the other was trying to change our class rules by adding "not" to them!

As soon as they saw me, they zoomed around the Zen Den and I had to chase them! But I had to stop, because our poor Gingerbread Person needed help - they had been taped to the cupboard and force-fed jelly beans! When we checked CCTV, we saw the whole thing. Poor Gingerbread Person felt so sick!

But then... I spotted something else... an elf had left a big mess on my chair - and that was the last straw! Enough! I said, and I climbed onto a chair (!) to catch them. But the elves jumped onto the fairy lights and swung toward the door like little acrobats.

Just then Mrs Cawdron opened the door. I shouted, "Get them!" but it was too late... They dashed out and ran down the corridor!
They must still be somewhere in the school. Please help me catch them - we need to stop the mischief together!
